Others who were reported to have succeeded in fissing Baghdad to join the loyalists were the former Chief of Staff, Gen. Rafik Aref., and Khaled Ankatbanji, who was said to have quarrelied with the junta after several political leaders were executed. It was said that loyalist army groups are continuing to organize for a march on Baghdad.

It was also reported that Ibrahim Hashem, the expremier of Jordan who was Nuri Said's Deputy Premier in the Arab Union, and Suleiman Toukan the Jordanian Defence Minister of the Union, who were in Baghdad at the time of the revolt, have been executed by the junta.

The Foreign Minister on Tuesday reviewed the latest developments in the region at a meeting of the Knesset Foreign Affairs and Security Committee, Following Mrs. Meir's report, the Committee continued with its political discussion which it began last week with the participation of the Prime Minister.

At the beginning of the meeting, the Chairman, Mr. M. Argov, congratulated Mrs. Meir on her recovery from her recent operation and wished her success on her forthcoming official visit to France.

UNITED MATIONS (Reuter). — The Soviet Union Tuesday night vetoed a Japanese compromise resolution on the Lebanese situation, and the Council adjourned indefinitely.

Earlier, Russia had proposed sweeping amendments to the Japanese draft, the chief of which would have called for the immediate withdrawal of American troops from the Lebanon.

Immediately after the Russian veto, Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold announced he would proceed with measures to fill the vacuum caused by the Council's failure to act and would use "all opportunities" to develop U.N. efforts in Lebanon to "prevent a further deterioration of the situation."

Mr. Hammarskjold declarated these efforts would be to "find a road away from the dangerous point at which we now find ourselves."

Nature Healers Want Legal Status

Legal Status

The Israel Association of Nature Healing Doctors has petitioned Members of the Knesset to obtain legal status for their profession.

In a circular, the Association declared that natural healing is recognized in most parts of the modern world. Thousands of Israelis are confirmed advocates of nature healing and are willing to testify before a Knesset committee, it claimed.

The Israel body is affiliated to an international organization with headquarters in the U.S.

Three private members bills which aim to reduce the time and money spent on election campaigns were referred to committee by the Knesset on Tuesday, without opposition. The bills were presented in motions for the agenda by Mr. Exra Ichilov (General Zionista), Mr. Hanan Rubin (Mapam), and Mr. Yigal Alon (Ahdut Ha'avoda).

Mr. Alon's bill was the most comprehensive and far-reaching on the subject. It would restrict campaign expenditure to IL1,500 per eandidate (or IL180,000 for a complete party list of 120). It would also limit the campaign period to one month, ("There is nothing that can't be explained in a month," Mr. Alon commented.)

His hill would also prohibit ish Congress which starts deliberations in Geneva on Wedneeday (today).

The second part of the epening session will be devoted to the tenth anniversary of the State of Israel, Addresses on the subject will be given by Dr. Israel Goldstein, Chairman of the Congress
Western Hemisphere Executive, and Mr. Joseph Linton, Israel Minister to Switzerland.

Among other highlights of the World Executive session will be a discussion on problems of Jewish survival in the Diaspora, introduced by Mr.
I. M. Sleff, Chairman of the European Executive of Congress, and Dr. A. Steinberg, Director of the Cultural Department, and discussion on general trends in Germany, introduced by Dr. N. Robinson, Director of the World Jewish Affairs in New York.
The closing session on July 27 will be devoted to the problems of Jews in the Moslem world.

It is expected that some 100 members of the World Executive will participate in the Geneva session. Among overseas delegations will be representatives of the North African Jewish communities as well as delegates from Argentina, Brazil, and Uruguay.

A strong delegation from the US. will be headed by Rabbi Dr. Joachim Prinz, newly-elected President of the American Jewish Congress.
Dr. A. Tartakower, Chairman of the Congress Israel Executive, will lead the Israel delegation. (WJA)

Mr. Rosen said the bill had been submitted by the former Minister for Religious Affairs, Mr. Haim Moshe Shapira, its main provision is to prohibit the sale of any foodstuff as kosher unless a koshrut certificate (hechsher) was insued for it by the Chief Rabbinate.

Tel Aviv Defying Interior Ministry on School Building

Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV. — An order to municipal departments to proceed with construction and development projects — despite the Minister of Interior's order that no new projects should be started before his approval of the budget — was issued by Mayor Haim Levanon this week.

The Municipal budget was presented to the Minister in March, the Mayor asserted at a press conference here on Tuesday. Since then, and in spite of repeated meetings with the Minister and his representatives, no officies approval has been received.

Building projects could not be held up any longer, especially school construction, Mr. Levanon said. No reason for the prolonged delay had been given by the Ministry, he added.

In answer to charges that the town had favoured private interests in disposing of land holdings, the Mayor declared that during the past three years the Municipality had acquired 1,313 dunams of land, and had sold only $2. Among the purchasers he enumerated the Histadrut, Hamashbir Hamercazi and the Palestine Economic Corporation.

In answer to reporters' of questiona Mr. Levanon de-

Perhaps in the end the greatest beneficiaries will be the doctors the wrong impression that might be given by the insistence on wage demands, and even physicians strikes, medical man who is not enabled to practise his profession to the best of his ability is a poor doctor and an unhappy one. This alleviation of his burdens and this new relationship which will, it is hoped, develop between doctor and patient under the new scheme, should assist the physician towards a truer practice of his calling.

HEBREW University students will present their talents at the Concert Hall of Binyanei Ha'comah on Sunday, July 27. The main interest of the event, apart from the folk singers, lies in the participation of the choir, which will perform Schubert's Mass in G major (in Hebrew adaptation) under the direction of Meir Harnik, This mass is well remembered from Robert Shaw's visit. This will be the first time the choir appears in a full-length work.
